Futuregrowth wins Agribusiness Fund of the Year Award

The Africa Investor Agribusiness Investment Awards offer recognition to Africa's agribusiness investment leaders and their role in improving the continent's agribusiness investment profile.

Futuregrowth Asset Management's Agri-Fund was named Agribusiness Fund of the Year.

Commenting on the award, Futuregrowth Portfolio Manager James Howard said: "Futuregrowth believes that investing in sustainable agribusiness is crucial to developing Africa's vast potential in the agricultural sector. Agribusiness investment stimulates job creation and rural development and if a sound, sustainable approach is nurtured today, Africa – as well as investors – will reap the benefits tomorrow."

Futuregrowth's Agri-Fund provides direct investment exposure to agricultural land.

It invests mainly in equity investments, agri-businesses and farming infrastructure.

The Fund seeks long-term returns and tangible development impact and is managed in partnership with UFF Asset Management.
